Commemoration

The Holy Fathers of the Seventh Ecumenical Council are commemorated in October, on the Sunday of the Fathers of the Seventh Ecumenical Council. The Decision of the Council:

Restoration of the Icons

Concerning the teaching of icons

Venerating icons, having them in churches and homes, is what the Church teaches. They are "open books to remind us of God." Those who lack the time or learning to study theology need only to enter a church to see the mysteries of the Christian religion unfolded before them.

Concerning the doctrinal significance of icons

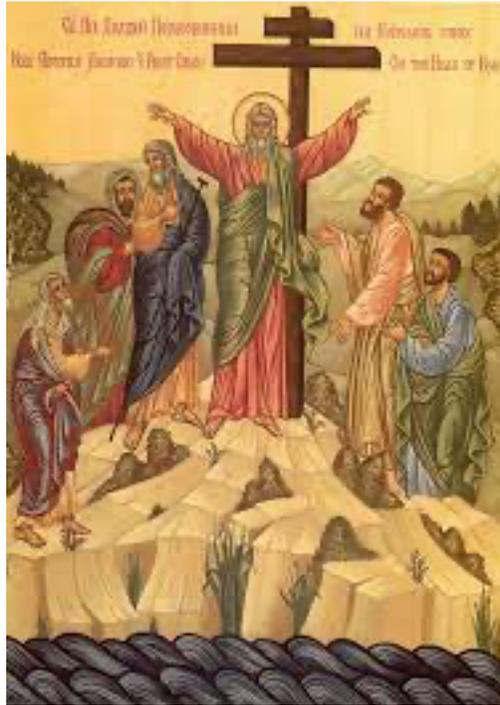

Icons are necessary and essential because they protect the full and proper doctrine of the Incarnation. While God cannot be represented in His eternal nature ("...no man has seen God", John 1:18), He can be depicted simply because He "became human and took flesh." Of Him who took a material body, material images can be made. In so taking a material body, God proved that matter can be redeemed. He deified matter, making it spirit-bearing, and so if flesh can be a medium for the Spirit, so can wood or paint, although in a different fashion.

I do not worship matter, but the Creator of matter, who for my sake became material and deigned to dwell in matter, who through matter effected my salvation... —St.

John of Damascus

The seventh and last Ecumenical Council upheld the iconodules' position in AD 787. They proclaimed: *Icons... are to be kept in churches and honored with the same relative veneration as is shown to other material symbols, such as the 'precious and life-giving Cross' and the Book of the Gospels. The 'doctrine of icons' is tied to the Orthodox teaching that all of God's creation is to be redeemed and glorified, both spiritual and material.*

In commemoration of the Holy Fathers of the Seventh Ecumenical Council and in honor of your treasured icons, please consider making a donation to St. Andrew's.

Three Decades On: The UHEC Archivist's Return Visit to Ukraine

UHEC archivist Michael Andrec shares experiences and the 30th anniversary of Ukrainian Independence.

This past August, our own Michael Andrec had a chance to travel to Ukraine for the first time since just prior to the 1991 declaration of independence. He represented the UHEC at the opening of the exhibition “Za Voliu Ukrainy!/Forever Free Ukraine!” at the National Museum of the History of Ukraine in the Second World War Memorial Complex in Kyiv. A co-production by that museum and the “Ukraine – 21st Century” Foundation, this is the first major exhibition in Ukraine to include substantial loans from Ukrainian American museums and archives (including the UHEC, the Ukrainian National Museum in Chicago, the Ukrainian Museum and Library in Stamford, the Ukrainian Museum in New York, and the Ukrainian Academy of Arts and Sciences) as well as from more than a dozen institutions in Ukraine. In addition to being in Kyiv during the celebrations of the 30th anniversary of the renewal of Ukrainian independence, he also had a chance to travel with his museum and archives colleagues to museums and historical sites in Baturyn and Chyhyryn.

In this talk, he will present his experiences and observations about Ukraine, Ukrainian museums, and shifting attitudes towards Ukrainian history, culture, and language.

This webinar is FREE, but registration is required to view. Donations are gratefully accepted!
